

Denver, Colorado USA

Julie Fellows

Executive Leader and Risk Expert

Julie Fellows is an expert in balancing sustainable enterprise growth while mitigating risks. She understands the challenges posed in today's environment of escalating complexity and disruption and applies holistic strategy development and expertise in enterprise risk management practices, cybersecurity and emerging technologies to help innovative organizations capitalize on market opportunities.

Julie is an independent director, senior executive and regulator, currently leading a consultancy providing risk management advisory services and leadership programs to boards and executive teams. Julie's over 20-year leadership experience as a trusted advisor to CEOs, executive management and boards of public and private companies, make her skills and expertise invaluable to a company faced with the need to balance risk and reward.

Julie's capacity for capitalizing on opportunities while balancing risk increases the bottom line through both revenue growth and loss averted. She is known for her ability to solve complex strategic issues and large-scale regulatory challenges.

Julie's collaborative approach builds trusted relationships, acknowledges the importance of risk and ESG matters, and helped her cultivate successful interactions with members of the House of Representatives, Senators, and leaders from the Senate Banking and Finance Committee, Federal Reserve Bank, The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency as well as international regulatory bodies.

Julie draws upon experience as a business leader and regulator to advise, develop and implement strategies to maximize returns while managing risk in complex, global environments. She has over 3 decades of business experience, including global P&L responsibility and contributes significant value to public or private companies by providing the board and management with holistic perspectives, especially those in a disruptive marketplace.

Currently, Julie is a Member of the Advisory Board for the Global Food Exchange, and its subsidiary, The World Food Bank, a privately held corporation revolutionizing the world's agricultural systems through innovations in finance and food production. Additionally, she is CEO and Founder of J.A. Fellows and Associates, an executive consulting firm providing cybersecurity, credit and enterprise risk management services, compliance management and collaborative leadership programs. This follows leadership roles within the financial services industry with both publicly-held and private, regulated and non-regulated organizations.

Julie is a Qualified Financial Expert (QFE) under SEC requirements, a Certified Board Director under CDI.D, and an OCC Commissioned National Bank Examiner.

Julie holds a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and International Business from the University of Colorado, Leeds School of Business, a certificate in International Finance and Politics from the London School of Business and Finance and a certificate in Cyber-Security Risk Management from Harvard.

Strategic Expertise

- Balancing risk and opportunity through strategically mitigating risk, identifying often over-looked opportunities within risk, and capitalizing on those opportunities
- Developing trusted relationships—with the upmost level of integrity, collaborate with all parties - facilitating cooperation
- Wisely advising corporate leaders through obstacles and downturns so they can continue building sustainable growth and stakeholder satisfaction
- Steering organizations through transformational change - utilizing agility and tenacity, creating inclusive environments while achieving buy-in so there is less resistance to change