

Board Bio

Polly Swartzfager, a corporate partner with Bartlit Beck LLP, specializes in debt and equity financings, mergers and acquisitions and joint ventures. She counsels clients from $50 million to multi-billion on change of control transactions, crisis management and a variety of corporate governance, SEC compliance and general corporate matters. Polly's practice covers a broad range of industries, including healthcare, cybersecurity and industrial products and services. She is a seasoned board room and management counselor valued for her practical sense of how best to achieve company objectives with a minimum of friction. Clients appreciate that she brings an MBA's point of view to her corporate practice.

Polly began her career with Skadden Arps' corporate finance group in New York and worked on international transactions at Dorsey & Whitney's London office, prior to joining Bartlit Beck as a partner.

Polly serves on the board of directors and executive and enterprise risk committees of Mental Health Partners, a community mental health center serving Boulder, Broomfield, Longmont and Lafayette, Colorado. She previously was a member of the Denver advisory board of Colorado Business Bank.

Polly received her JD/MBA from Stanford Law School and Stanford Graduate School of Business. She is a Boettcher Scholar and holds a BA in Economics magna cum laude, Phi Beta Kappa from Colorado College. A USFSA gold medal ice dancer and US National Synchronized Skating Team silver and bronze medalist, Polly enjoys skating and downhill skiing in her free time.
